

As a trade association, the individuals receiving fax and/or E-mail marketing from the association have requested this communication. As long as a "unsubscribe" option is given on any fax or E-mail correspondence, I do not believe a consent form is necessary. Consent forms would be required from thousands of individuals and very costly to process and track.